

ABSTRACT

For one aspect of the invention, a method is described for mitigating power spectral density irregularities in a multi-carrier modulation environment. The method
5 involves identifying at least one carrier of a plurality of carriers that is in a non-data bearing state. Thereafter, that carrier is modulated with random data.

09031554 "061601
TOP SECRET